Stock Market for the Past Week Shows Indications of Political Apprehension.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Activity in the stock market last week, although somewhat greater than the previous week, continued on a restricted scale and the movement of prices was sluggish or flat and irregular. Various explanations are offered for the unresponsiveness of the market to developments affecting values. One of immediate application last week was the pendency of a three-day holiday.

The business prospect continued to be regarded as excellent and the conviction gathered strength that revival was not to be halted by the presidential campaign. Nevertheless the abstention from speculation is due to fear that the campaign may develop a situation that will hamper business.

Regulations upon money supplies for business purposes shown by drops in last week's money markets. Interior money markets paid their debt to the government by drafts on New York and preliminary to direct shipments of currency.

Interior banks have larger balances than usual in New York and have borrowed with corresponding increase in power of withdrawal. The full volume of harvests and their high prices will require more money than usual.

Mrs. J. N. Hill, Homer, Ga., has used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for years, and says she always recommends it to her friends. "It never fails to cure our coughs and colds and prevents croup. We have five children and always give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for a cold, and they are all soon well. We would not be without it in our house." Schramm-Johnson, Drugs, five (5) stores.

GREATER ACTIVITY IN THE STEEL TRADE.
NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Blast furnace interests last week secured additional contracts for pig iron, the various districts in excess of 200,000 tons making the total for the month of August more than 1,000,000 tons. This volume of business was exceeded in some months of previous heavy buying movements when large tonnage of steel-making iron was included, but seldom if ever has the proportion of foundry grades sold been as great as in the past few months.

Since the first of January prices of foundry grades have advanced from $2 to $2.50 a ton, while steel-making metal has advanced from $1 to $2 a ton, including 25 to 50 cents established last week.

The heaviest buying in the eastern district was by manufacturers of electrical machinery and railroad equipment. In the west, manufacturers of agricultural machinery and of cars were the largest buyers.

Specifications on contracts for finished steel products were heavy throughout August, permitting the mills to increase output from 4 to 5 per cent.

The United States Steel corporation produced 1,500,000 tons of steel in August and 1,175,000 tons of pig iron during the month. Railroads placed orders for 165,000 tons of steel, 43,000 tons of structural material, 28,000 cars and 310 locomotives.

News of the Insurance World

Companies Retiring From Italy.
As a result of the new Italian law making life insurance in Italy a government monopoly, the New York Life has announced its intention to retire from the business in that country, amounting to $12,000,000 of insurance in force. The American and foreign companies which have been doing business in Italy will be given three alternatives. They will be allowed to carry their policies to expiration, stopping the writing of new business; continue the writing of new business, gradually turning it over to the Italian government within ten years, or quit now and reimburse. The National Institute of Insurance, the name of the new department, takes the business over on a basis which safeguards the policyholders and protects the company against loss. The Mutual Life of New York, with $12,000,000 of business, and the Equitable Life Assurance society, with $2,000,000, are the only other American companies operating in Italy. It is believed that they also will retire from that country.

A number of life insurance companies from other countries were operating in Italy and have built up large agencies and business. The legislation specifically provided that no compensation should be paid them for their plans. The effort was made to have the company referred to the Hague tribunal as a proper subject for international arbitration, but the Italian government refused to consider the proposal.

One on Commissioner Done.
Willard Done, insurance commissioner of Utah, has never been known to take a holiday in beauty parlors. He is aware of his position. Mrs. Done tells with great glee an incident which happened to her when she was a child. Irene was graduated from high school. A party was held that evening and Miss Irene had been invited. During the day she was called to the phone by a caller and the receiver heaved a sigh of relief and said: "Thank heaven I have an escape from this party." "Why?" her mother asked. "My blank invited me to go to a party with him tonight." "Why wouldn't you go with him?" asked Mrs. Done. "He is refined and educated." "But, mother, he is so homely." "Is any homelier than papa?" asked Mrs. Done. "No," answered the daughter, "but we've got used to papa."—Insurance Field.

Auto Thieves Are Busy.
An active effort is being made in Chicago to form an association of companies for the purpose of prosecuting automobile thieves. Several of the automobile insurance writing companies are interested in the project. It is suggested that a fund be subscribed to retain a firm of competent lawyers and push the cases hard, as the theft losses in the "Windy City" have been unusually heavy this summer. In one day last week five valuable cars were stolen in the downtown district and the same thefts of tires and accessories are said to be of almost hourly occurrence.

Automobile thefts, especially in the large cities, continue to increase in number and seriousness from an insurance standpoint, and companies are convinced that there are well-organized gangs of thieves which make a specialty of preying on this class of business.

THE ATTRACTIVENESS OF GOOD SERVICE

It is pleasant to do business with a friendly sort of man who tries his best to give you the most effective service possible. You will not only deal with him yourself, but you will send your friends to him also.

It is just so with a bank. If its officers and tellers are cordial and friendly, and if they are always willing to give you the benefit of their advice, or influence, or direct help, you will naturally feel that your bank connection is a valuable one, particularly if your bank happens to combine large strength with its friendliness.

This idea is the keynote of the service we try to give. It makes a difference—ask our customers.

The bank whose customers boast for it is the bank for you.
